OFFICE OF
HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., June 15, 1893.

THE unprecedented success attending our efforts to supply the trade with products of purity and merit is appreciated as evidenced by a largely increased demand for our brands, and is indeed gratifying, and places us in a position to continue our progressive policy of improving the out-put of each successive year.

We are profoundly thankful for the generous treatment accorded us by our patrons, and respectfully solicit a continuance based upon our promise to make our dealings unqualifiedly satisfactory in every respect.

At the World's Columbian Exposition we have an exhibit in the Vinticultural department of Horticultural Hall near the stairway to the café, and our representative on duty will take pleasure in meeting any who may honor us with calls; and will give prices and information, and receive orders for shipment direct from our vaults.

GOLDEN AGE Champagne has grown in favor with connoisseurs to the extent of overtaxing our producing capacity of the past, but happily our largely increased facilities will enable us to supply the demand.

Office of FAXON, WILLIAMS & FAXON,
Importers and Grocers.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 1, 1893.

"Gentlemen—We have been handling your GOLDEN AGE
Champagne for some time, and find that customers who have used other American Champagnes give yours a decided preference. From our experience we can say, without hesitation, that yours is the best American Champagne in the market.

Yours truly,

Faxon, Williams & Faxon.

Address all Orders to the Company.

Very truly yours,

G. H. WHEELER, Secretary.
